

Custom Security Application

LET US DEVELOP THE SECURITY APPLICATION YOU NEED

With the service “Custom Security Application” from Nexus Professional Services, we will build a security application you can fully trust, fulfilling your specific security and functional requirements.

Service description

Duration:

Total duration and cost is calculated during the initial Solution Assurance phase. Duration of the Solution Assurance phase is one week.

Target group:

Organisations that require custom applications for their security environment and systems.

Expected result:

You will receive a custom security application you can trust and also fulfills all your requirements.

Detailed content:

This service will run as a development project through these three phases:

Phase 1. Solution Assurance

The Solution Assurance is a standard service where we verify all your requirements, the required security level, the target system environment, and where we also do the preparations for the project. The total cost for the project is then calculated. An acceptance test specification is produced and mutually agreed upon.

Phase 2. Execution

The execution phase includes design, development, documentation and testing.

We will develop an early prototype of the application to let your organisation verify it and give us feedback. The prototype will demonstrate the basic characteristics of the application.

Testing of the complete application includes functional, security and integration testing. We test through the acceptance test specification and document the results in a test report. Delivered documentation also includes user and installation guides.

Phase 3. Conclusion

We will deliver the tested application with documentation and then you will have an acceptance period to verify the quality. We will fully support your testing and the application during this phase.
